BELGIAN street artist, Bart Smeets, better known in the art world as Smates, started a 400m<sup>2</sup> graffiti mural on the wall of the Belly of the Beast restaurant in Harrington Street. Over the next 10 days, this will become the largest public art mural in Cape Town that will effectively act as an extension of the third International Public Art Festival which will take place in Salt River from February 9 to 17 next year. | ARMANCO HOUGH African News Agency (ANA)
