

EYE SPY

THE INAUGURAL International Public Art Festival team took a group of enthusiasts for a street art walking tour through Salt River in Cape Town yesterday. The festival's aim is to beautify the district, showcase local and international talent, and take art out of the galleries and on to the streets of the city. | ARMAND HOUGH African News Agency (ANA)